MANDY VIAL

FACULTY

Mandy graduated with honors from LaSalle College Vancouver's Baking and Pastry program in 2013. Upon graduation, Mandy spent time working as a pastry assistant before securing her current role as Head Pastry Chef at the leading Italian bakery in the Tri-Cities area, Casa Del Pane. During her time as Head Pastry Chef, Mandy made time to continue her education and received certification as a Red Seal Professional Baker. Mandy also spends time giving back to community through volunteering with the Growing Chefs Society where she taught children about urban agriculture. It was through this experience that Mandy found her love for teaching which inspired her to come back where it all started. Mandy uses her experience as a student, and as a professional pastry chef, to teach her students what is required to learn, grow, and succeed, not only as a student, but as a pastry chef as well.

Mandy truly believes that you don't wait for an opportunity, you create it yourself.
